Beers that are brewed in other cities and shipped to Washington lack the requisite freshness and flavor of the "Best," which is bottled from kegs that leave the vaults every morning. It is bottled by experienced workmen, who know the value of using care in transferring the beer from keg to bottle. Again, the properties of the beer are perfectly pure, unadulterated and able to stand the test of any analysis. The materials used in its manufacture are selected by ex-perts. Many beer drinkers are prejudiced in favor of some especial brand that they consider a good thing. It is the acme of common sense to hold on to a good thing when you have it, but always let go when some-thing better turns up, like the 'Best' Beer, for in-

When you ask the bartender for it insist on having it cold. When you drink it you will notice that it has not the thick mealy taste so unpleasantly characteristic of a great many other brands.

That the beer is a thing of excellence and worthy of notice will be more than granted after the first bottle by lots of beer drinkers who fail at present to see any erit in home products. During these days of sultry summer there is nothing more gra.
